REPORT OF THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE OF THE FRIENDS' FREE LIBRARY, GERMANTOWN, FOR YEAR ENDING ELEVENTH MONTH,
15, 1919.

To Germantown Monthly Meeting of Friends:—

Many libraries have better facilities and greater attractions in art and architecture than ours, but few surpass it in an atmosphere of homelikeness and cheerfulness, or in the courtesy and personal attention of the librarians.

The number of visitors the past year outnumbered that of the year before by 1477. On the other hand, the number of books consulted was 1097 fewer than the previous year. The influenza epidemic largely accounts for this. The falling off is almost entirely in the fields of history, religion and philosophy. The interest in history declined at once on the signing of the armistice, and the absence of many clergymen patrons on war missions is thought by the Librarians to be the reason for the falling off in the fields of religion and philosophy. Beginning with this autumn, there is an almost overwhelming increase in circulation.

One of our Librarians, Jean M. Smith, had leave of absence for four months to enter the American Library Association's service for soldiers and wounded men at Camp Meade. She feels that this experience has enriched her interest and powers of usefulness here.

An increase in the number of juvenile books circulated, and the daily sight of children availing themselves of the facilities provided especially for them, confirms the wisdom of adding the juvenile "pen" to the furniture.

A gift of old papers recording sales of lands under the Proprietary Government was made to the Library by Mrs. Knox Taylor. Seventy-eight books also have been presented by various people.

A telephone has been installed connecting the Librarian's desk with the house of the Janitor.

The opening and closing hours have been changed from 10 A. M. until 9.30 P. M. to 9.30 A. M. until 9 P. M.

The value of our Library to the School cannot be over-estimated. The proximity of the buildings where it is possible for teachers and pupils to consult books between classes and at recess, and the children, under the skillful guidance of the Librarians, learn at an early age how to use a library to best advantage.
